Police in UP more loyal to govt than Constitution: Allahabad HC

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

PRAYAGRAJ, JUNE 7: Police officers in Uttar Pradesh are more loyal towards the successive ruling dispensations than the Constitution, the Allahabad High Court observed recently. Justice VinodDiwakar said the "feudal mindset of politicians and bureaucrats" in the state has long reduced constitutional governance to an instrument of personal dominion rather than public service.

"The administrative machinery of the state has, over successive regimes, been susceptible to deep political penetration," the court said. It flagged transfers, postings, and promotions of officers in UP as instruments of political patronage rather than merit-based governance.

"Officers perceived as loyalists are rewarded with preferred postings -- urban commissionerates, lucrative districts – while those demonstrating independence are transferred punitively to inconsequential assignments, a well-known fact," the bench in a judgment passed on June 3 said.

"The vertical loyalty of officers runs not toward the Constitution but toward the ruling dispensation. Field officers, acutely conscious of the transfer-posting economy, calibrate their conduct to satisfy political superiors. Encounter killings, selective crackdowns and targeted use of the Gangsters Act against inconvenient individuals have periodically attracted judicial notice," the court said. In a searing commentary on the police's functioning and rule of law in Uttar Pradesh, Justice Diwakar said, "A considerable section of the officer cadre treats the rule of law not as a constitutional obligation but as an operational inconvenience. Arrests are effected without due process. Many times, FIRs are registered or suppressed with ulterior motives, and preventive detention provisions are invoked arbitrarily, at the whims of officers."He said that the procedural safeguards under the Code of Criminal Procedure, and now the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, are routinely bypassed, and judicial orders are complied with in form but defeated in substance.

The judge made the comments while dealing with a case filed by Rajendra Tyagi relating to the Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986. During the hearing of a petition filed by an accused booked under the anti-gangster law, the court took serious note of the misuse of police powers in the State. Since the Supreme Court is also considering the issues connected to the 1986 Act, Justice Diwakar refrained from giving any final verdict on the issues he noticed. The court censured the home secretary and asked the government to independently evaluate the suitability and operational effectiveness of its officers in the department.

"Certain officers who rose to the post of Home Secretary have in practice served as conduits for self-serving interests. Recommendations on postings, approvals of departmental proceedings, and responses to court proceedings have in such instances reflected considerations driven by personal or extrinsic calculations rather than dispassionate and constitutionally informed administrative judgment. This fundamentally compromises the institutional integrity that the position demands," the judge said. He said that constitutional governance cannot be held hostage to individual expediency or convenience, and the state apparatus must remain answerable to the law and to the Constitution, not to any ruling establishment.

The court cited a raid carried out in Bikru village to target now-deceased gangster VikasDubey to illustrate the impunity with which police operate in Uttar Pradesh. It noted that the officer responsible for overseeing the Bikru operation, in which eight police personnel, including a deputy superintendent-rank officer, were killed, received only a formal caution. The court said it finds it difficult to reconcile such a "disproportionately lenient outcome" with the gravity of the supervisory failure involved. It said that it is precisely this culture of "institutional impunity" that emboldens those in authority to remain unaccountable, perpetuating the feudal and politically patronised administrative ecosystem.

Chidambaram says Cong informed DMK before backing TVK

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

CHENNAI, JUNE 7: Senior Congress leader P Chidambaram has said that his party extended support to the TVK only after informing the DMK leadership. The Congress, which was allied with DMK to contest in the April 23 Tamil Nadu Assembly elections, was the first party to offer support with five MLAs to TVK to enable the formation of the government.

"We want to prevent another election if TVK failed to secure majority in the House. This was wider feeling among alliance partners. Even people do not want another elections," he told a private news channel on Saturday. Claiming that the Congress also informed the alliance partners including CPI, VCK and IUML about its decision to support the TVK government, Chidambaram said, "the only difference is that we have announced the support to TVK one day before allies did". Soon after the alliance's poll debacle, the DMK youth wing led by Udhayanidhi Stalin organised a meeting and passed a resolution, accusing the Congress of "betraying" the DMK.

Our agitation will continue until Union minister Pradhan resigns: CJP founder Dipke

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

CHHATRAPATI SAMBHAJINAGAR, JUNE 7: Cockroach Janta Party (CJP) founder AbhijeetDipke said on Sunday his agitation over alleged irregularities in examinations and recruitment tests will not stop until Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan resigns. Dipke also said their protest at Jantar Mantar in New Delhi on Saturday was largely successful, with around 7,000 people participating in it, and added that the movement would now expand nationwide.

The CJP founder reached his residence in the MIDC Waluj area in Maharashtra's Chhatrapati Sambhajinagar district on Sunday morning and was welcomed by his family members. Later, speaking to reporters, Dipke said the agitation undertaken by the Cockroach Janata Party will not stop until Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan resigns.

"The protest we staged (at Jantar Mantar) was successful, as 6,000 to 7,000 people attended it. This agitation will go nationwide. We won't step back till DharmendraPradhan resigns," he asserted. "We will roll out a further action plan to take this agitation nationwide," Dipke added. Hundreds of protesters gathered at Delhi's JantarMantar on Saturday under the banner of the CJP, demanding Pradhan's resignation over alleged irregularities in examinations and recruitment tests, with Dipke delivering the message not to be "scared". At a press conference later in the national capital, CJP spokespersons announced that they will wait for a week either for the Centre to sack Pradhan or his voluntary resignation, after which they would launch a countrywide protest. Dipke, who called for the protest, arrived in Delhi from the United States on Saturday morning, walking out of the airport carrying a copy of B R Ambedkar's autobiography. After receiving permission from the Delhi Police, he reached JantarMantar.

Protesters, armed with posters demanding Pradhan's resignation, were seen wearing cockroach masks, which were being distributed at the venue.

CPI(M)'s letter to Congress raises questions about INDIA alliance unity: BJP

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

NEW DELHI, JUNE 7: The BJP on Sunday claimed that fresh cracks have emerged in the opposition INDIA bloc ahead of its meeting on Monday, citing a letter written by CPI(M) general secretary M A Baby to Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge.

Baby has sought clarification from the Congress on claims made by some of its leaders during the Kerala Assembly election campaign that the Left party had an "understanding" with the BJP. According to sources, in a letter to Kharge, Baby heavily criticised the Congress for its attacks on the CPI(M). Copies of the letter were also sent to other INDIA alliance partners. BJP spokesperson Shehzad Poonawalla said Baby's letter has put the Congress in the dock and raises questions about the unity of the INDIA alliance.

"This is the real state of the INDI alliance -- no mission, no vision, only confusion, division, allegations and ambition for positions," he said in a video statement. Referring to Baby's letter seeking clarification over allegations of an "understanding" between the Left and the BJP during the assembly elections, Poonawalla claimed that the development exposes divisions within the opposition alliance and shows that it lacks a common direction.

"One more setback has hit the INDI alliance after the DMK said it will not attend the meeting. The NCP (SP) may also stay away, while the JMM has been locked in a dispute with the Congress over a Rajya Sabha seat in Jharkhand," he said. The BJP spokesperson also questioned the cohesion of the opposition alliance, noting that several of its allies are political rivals in different states.

"Where was the INDI alliance in Kerala -- was it the Congress or the Left? Who was the INDI alliance in Bengal? Where is it in Punjab, Delhi, Haryana, Rajasthan and Madhya Pradesh? In vast parts of the country, it is nowhere to be seen. The alliance exists only on paper," he said. Alleging that the Congress "betrays" its allies, Poonawalla said the party attacks its partners and then seeks to project itself as a "saviour" of democracy.
